Woodbridge Carpet Cleaning Company Announces New Website

Imperial One Cleaning Services, a Woodbridge carpet cleaning company, is launching a new website.

The new site is designed by Soaring Away, a company that specializes in marketing carpet and home cleaning companies.

"We clean carpets and provide a few other services," said Imperial One owner Charles Lawson. "Our reputation is built and maintained one customer at a time. The services we offer are what we want to do and it is what we are good at. Time spent trying to develop and maintain a website is time away from our business."

Imperial One offers carpet, tile, upholstery, moving and out cleaning services pressure washing, janitorial services and water damage cleanup. "You can see that none of our services are for marketing and promotion," Mr. Lawson said. "We're a cleaning company. That's where our expertise is. We clean and our customers will tell you we do a great job of it."

Mr. Lawson also knew that getting the word out about Imperial One is necessary to stay in business. People are constantly moving into and out of the Woodbridge area. That's a customer base that needs to be reached, he said.

"Soaring Away and Holly Powell know the marketing side of cleaning companies. That's why we selected her and her company," Mr. Lawson said. "She will help us write blogs that will tell people what they need to know about our services and how they can do at-home cleaning in between our professional visits. We want the website to a community cleaning resource for everyone and that's what Holly will do."

The new website will also feature videos of the company's work in homes and businesses around the area.

Ms. Powell said she is pleased to partner with Imperial One Cleaning Services. She said she looks forward to promoting the company's reputation for excellence.

"Charles has worked hard to build a business based on professionalism, honesty and quality. People all around the Woodbridge region deserve to know this. They should know that Imperial One stands behind every cleaning job it takes on," Ms. Powell said. "Telling people about the company is going to be a pleasure."
